TOWN of BROOKLINE

Massachusetts

September 12, 1977

Dear Members of the Board of Selectmen and Citizens:

We are pleased to submit to you Brookline Village Walking Tours, an architectural guide to the neighborhoods in and around Brookline Village which has been prepared under the editorial direction of the distinguished architectural historian Margaret H. Floyd.

In the mid and latter nineteenth century Brookline Village was the heart of Town life. Indeed, the growth of the Town from a small country community known as Muddy River to a major Boston suburb can be readily traced in the architecture and history of the Village neighborhoods. Brookline Village Walking Tours presents the buildings as they exist today - varied in age, style, and history, yet an interesting architectural legacy which warrants attention. This information should increase the public awareness of Brookline's heritage and encourage the preservation and maintenance of the Town's neighborhoods.

This guide would not have been possible without assistance from the Brookline Historical Commission which conducted an architectural inventory of the neighborhoods with a Survey and Planning Grant from the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Requiring the dedicated work of many volunteers, particular appreciation is extended to Nancy Peabody, who supervised the research, and to Juliana Boyd, who organized the volunteers. In addition to the hard work of the Planning Department staff, particularly Heath Aldridge, special mention should also be made of Leslie Larkin for her volunteer research on historic properties. Finally, we would like to express the Town's appreciation to the Department of Housing and Urban Development whose financial assistance through the '701' Comprehensive Planning Assistance Grant made this publication possible.

Sincerely yours,

Novin Taule, M.D. golulle
